

ABSTRACT

This bachelor thesis entitled Portfolio of professional development Šárka Pavlová is divided to ten obligatory parts. One of these parts is a chronological curriculum vitae of the author. There is also an essay called Children's leisure time and digital technologies where the author describes, among other things, the negative effect of digital technologies on children. The next part is devoted to the book about children's potential. In this bachelor thesis, the author also describes the profession of leisure-time teacher in terms of her competencies. Finally, she evaluates her studies at Charles University. The author elaborated all parts on the basis of theoretical knowledge from professional literature and according to her own experience from practice. Her personal opinions and attitudes also appear here.
