

Abstract:

Title:

Case study of the physiotherapy treatment of a patient after hemorrhagic stroke with left-sided hemiparesis.

Objectives:

The aim of the bachelor thesis is to summarize a theoretical information about stroke and to process the case report of the patient after hemorrhagic stroke with left - sided hemiparesis.

Summary:

The bachelor thesis is about hemorrhagic stroke and contains two parts. The theoretical part deals with the informations about stroke. The second special part is about a case study of the physiotherapy care of the patient after hemorrhagic stroke with left - sided hemiparesis, which I worked with during the clinical practise in Fakultní nemocnice Královské Vinohrady in the term from 24.1.2022 to 3.2. 2022.

Keywords:

Stroke, hemorrhagic stroke, left-sided hemiparesis, rehabilitation after the hemorrhagic stroke, physiotherapy procedures and methods.