

This diploma thesis presents original czech translation of Policraticus by John of Salisbury. Introductory study maps, based on literature, John's life and shows its influence on Policraticus as well as his other works. A few relevant pieces from John's other works are translated in Appendix.