

The diploma thesis deals with basic approaches and methodology of education of adults. In practical part of the thesis there is research trying to prove theoretical background enrich by practical experience with teaching of course Do not be intimidate by computers. This research proved initial presumptions and it results into new founding as well. The work deals with information andragogy from education of adults and gives some basic methods and conceptions for this education.