

Abstract

This diploma trespis deals with activities of the Czechoslovak Committee of Defenders of Peace in the years 1949–1956 with an emphasis on the impairment of institutional-organizational relations. The work also includes an outline of the further development of peace organizations in Czechoslovakia, including their transformation after 1989.