

Title of diploma paper:

The influence of chosen psychical factors on the performance of Competitor in wild water slalom.

Aim:

The aim of the work is based on the results of the questionnaire CSA-I 2 to determine the values of all three components

Racing anxiety and their impact on the performance of the plant itself.

Methods:

To determine the values of competitive anxiety questionnaire was used CSAI-second results

They were processed using the statistical program SPSS. The comparison was used for data nonparametric correlation research.

results:

Water slalom have higher cognitive and somatic anxiety and lower confidence than top athletes from other sports. has not been demonstrated linear relationship between the individual components racing anxiety and own performance in a given race.

Keywords:

Racing anxiety, self-confidence, sports performance, water slalom.