

Summary

Main theme of the thesis is czechoslovak warship President Masaryk in the period 1930-1938.

The thesis is divided to three chapters.

The first chapter targets shipbuilding. The second chapter focuses on service of the ship and its crew, also it compares with contemporary river warships. The third chapter is dedicated to civilian reception of the warship through newspapers and statements by military officials.