

Abstract

Title of Dissertation:

Doping and Its Ethical Dimension

Aims:

To work up general information about doping, doping resources and methods and their influence over the human organism, to think of the reasons, why people use forbidden supportive resources in sport, to judge the problem of doping in sport in term of ethical and moral aspects, to evaluate the impacts of doping on trustworthiness of the athlete and the sport as a whole.

Methods:

The dissertation has a theoretic character and uses qualitative methods: compares, analyses and interprets texts from publications and sources. It draws own conclusions from these bases.

Results:

The dissertation clears up broad issue of doping in sport in term of history, medicine and social sciences and especially it opens up less analysed ethical aspect, analysis cause of using doping and its negative impacts on athletes and sport communities, forms platform for possible prevention and educational utilization.

Keywords:

Doping – „Spirit of Sport“ – Ethical Offences – Ethics of Sport – Fair Play