

Abstract

Work name

Swimming sports in the Czech republic in years 1945 – 1960

Aim of work

Aim of work of graduation theses is to approach and describe progress of swimming sports in the Czech republic in a given period. The main contents of this work is characterization of development and actual state of swimming, water polo, fancy diving and synchronized swimming as well as organizational ensuring of competition in a given period. One part of the work is view of results of Czech swimmers, divers and players of polo in championships both in the Czech republic and abroad (World championships, Europe championships, Olympic games,..).

Tendency is then to zoom in important moments in history of Czech swimings sports.

Method

Chronology, comparative

Chronological method is used in the course of the whole work describing the development of the particular swimming sports in the Czech republic during the years 1945 – 1960.

Comparative method consists of comparing individual units. This method is mainly used in the part of the work following the representatives of Czechoslovakia performances in the international forum.

Results

Description of progress of swimming sports in the Czech republic in years 1945 – 1960.

Key words

Swimming, water polo, fancy diving, competition