Comments from Defence Committee on Student Defence
<ol style="list-style-type: none">1. What were your hypotheses before starting your research?2. To what extent is a favourable attitude to solidarity really distinct from left-right cleavages? How can you claim that attitude towards solidarity is a more important indicator than L-R voter preference?3. Please tell us more about the differences between the member states and what you think accounts for them.4. Explain the difference between “playing a role” and “parallels” in your analysis.
