The student presented his thesis defence, giving a brief background leading to his research questions and the recent shifts in the topic's relevance in the European region. He then explained the reasoning behind his methodological approach, given his multi-disciplinary background in security studies, political science and public administration. He then addresses some of the reviewers' criticisms through the conclusions of his thesis.

[CU Committee]: Given that the student already went through the main criticisms in his presentation, Dr. Bureš (chair) asked whether the counterterrorism policies were assessed at the national level or at the supranational level.

The student elaborated on the follow-up question, and the defence concluded with no further inquiries from the committee.
