Course of defence: Defence: reviewers proposed B/65, D/58 and C/63 (average grade C/62). The main point of critique were about the essence of behavioral economics, applied terminology, structure of the paper and survey methodology. Student was able to explain most of the issues in a very goof way showing understanding of the problem, also additional questions were answered in an excellent way. The overall perception is that some issues should have been drawn to the end, especially in the field of terminology.
