

Abstract

Author: Tereza Bočková

Title of the bachelor thesis: Comparison of floorball teaching at elementary schools in different cities based on teacher's experience with a career in floorball

Objectives: comparison of floorball teaching based on observation and interviews with elementary school teachers.

1. Comparison of lesson preparation and floorball teaching by teachers with personal experience in floorball and by teachers without personal experience in floorball.

Methodology: The research part of the bachelor thesis is based on observation

Research set: The research set consisted of 3 elementary schools and 6 physical education teachers. In total, there were 6 lessons in elementary schools which were conducted by teachers with and as well as without personal experience in floorball.

Results: I believe that the result of the work should be the finding that teaching floorball by a teacher with personal experience in floorball will be of better quality and the students will learn the basics of floorball faster than students taught by a teacher without personal experience in floorball.

Use in practice: This work could help teachers without personal experience in floorball to improve the level of floorball teaching in physical education classes.

Keywords: floorball, experience with floorball, physical education, teaching floorball at elementary school, physical education teacher.