Work is aimed to design and implement web application called virtual sportsbook. Application will be able to get match odds and results from real sportsbook's web pages (at least two sportsbooks) and create own offering by virtue of real data. Administrator will resolve conflict cases but application will try to minimize number of various conflicts. Application will be able to evaluate bet value from real sportsbooks and compares their offerings. Application will be able to archive, manage and search bets in database, register users and export bets into PDF file.