This bachelor thesis deals with the knowledge of nosocomial infections and hand hygiene in health care among medical students. The theoretical part is devoted to nosocomial infections, their causative agents, the most common types and division of nosocomial infections. The theoretical part also describes hand hygiene, its techniques, disinfectants, use of gloves and hand care. The empirical part focuses on the presentation of the results and subsequent analysis of data obtained by quantitative and qualitative research investigation, among students of the 2nd and 4th year of the Secondary School of Health and Social Care in Chrudim in the field of Practical Nursing, using a questionnaire survey and photo documentation.
