

Aim of the study

This work has as its goal to offer coaches to help PFI effort to effectively as possible analysis of gaming performance so as to get the maximum amount of information from the playing match a selected type of analysis could use in field conditions.

Methodology work

PFI work we carried out evaluation research, we applied thus one of the so-called. Mixed strategy and we used both quantitative and qualitative methods. based disinterested structured observation certain groups of indicator we won potfebna data in the form of matches into a point in a match, which were subsequently evaluated each of the selected records on the scoresheet. Finally, we individual records on the scoresheet undergone peer comparisons to the most we then draw conclusions.

Results

Nami results presented show that each of pfedstavenych and analyzevanych Records of the match has a certain quality, but one stands out above all others their sophistication and prove trainers provide much information on the reporting of the match.

Keywords

Individual gaming performance, Tennis, analysis, record game, indicators, assessment, criteria comparison