

Abstract:

Title of thesis: Opportunities of the Chinese financial market

Aim: Aim of the thesis is to define current situation of the Chinese financial market, specify opportunities and threats of investing in this market, outline the way of its development in the future and determine suitable investment strategy in the Chinese stock market for Czech investors.

Methods: The main methods used in this Work are describing analysis, interview and fundamental analysis, especially indicator Price / Earnings ratio. For the analysis of the actual situation of the Chinese financial market and for meeting of the prescribed aims there were used professional literature, websites and materials and interviews with the experts for the question of the Chinese economy and stock market.

Results: Nowadays the Chinese stock market is in the stage of long-standing fall caused by global financial crisis. This decline enables new opportunities for capital appreciation to the investors. There were realized extensive reforms in the latest years which improve the investment opportunities even more. Czech investors can invest into the Chinese stocks especially by wide deal of unit trusts. Because of the high volatility investment in this market should not exceed 10 % of the total investment portfolio.
