

I conceived my thesis as a preparation of a methodical material for creating an art project. I chose Labyrinths as the topic. I started mainly from my own experiences and practice. I used also commonly accessible literature and internet sources. The aim of my bachelor thesis is to create a methodology of creating an art project which can be used in a school system which does not evaluate only the result but the general process above all.