

The bachelor essay is focused on family and school cooperation. The topic of the work is the characterisation of the Waldorf education and some of its specifics. The theoretical part is about the founder of Waldorf pedagogy Rudolf Steiner, it describes a history of the formation of this type of education and it defines its main features. The practical part is based on a description of forms of the cooperation and it analyzes a level of the cooperation between parents and regular grade schools in comparison to Waldorf schools.