

Application of music-educational elements in the General Educational Plan focusing on the first year of elementary school

In the thesis I am dealing with the issue of using of musical pedagogical components in the General Educational Plan focusing on the first grade of primary school. The elementary material for my thesis was the General Pedagogical Plan for elementary education, its goals anticipated results leading to musical abilities of the child.

In the theoretical part of my thesis I am pointing to define the pre-school aged child from the time of first school day and during the first year of elementary school. First I am coming up with child from the personal development point and consecutively from the point of musical development. Further I am aiming to the progress of musical and intellectual child's potential. Consecutively I am describing interpretation and goals of General Pedagogical Plan.

In the practical part I am presenting my several years musical operation in choral singing school Bambini di Praga with pre-school and school children and consecutively I am adopting my information and experience in creation of perceptual plan for First grade of primary school.

In conclusion of this thesis I present musical project called Broučci, which aim was to check out the abilities and skills on the sample of the first grade children. If they understand curriculum and are able to apply it in musical activities. This project was also aimed to the task of key skills and their progress.
