

This work is focused on a social development of pupils at primary school. The theoretical part is based on contemporary and inspiring literature studying the diploma topic, contains features of primary pupils, their development of social competencies, the role of school, theory of class as a social group, behaviour of its members and hierarchy of social roles in such a background. There are also methodical instruments which can help working on respectful atmosphere to the teacher for less popular pupils, too.