

Diploma thesis Jewish immigration to America, especially concerning Hasidic communities deals with the current situation on Jewish settlement in the USA, focusing on hasidic communities and dynasties. The paper starts with the very beginning of the exploration and settlement of Europeans in the New World with the first traces of Jews there. I've also mentioned the first Jewish community, at the South American continent, today's Brasilia. Next chapters are about to describe arrival of the first settlers to North America, to the area of today's New York City, the development of the Jewish settlement through the United States. Further parts of the paper deals with hasidic communities and hasidic dynasties in the US, area of New York City, mainly focused on Satmar hasidic court and the others.
