

The submitted thesis introduces an actual theme of Adult Education and Counseling in the framework of Road Traffic Accidents.

The main aim of the thesis is to inform and to extend a corporate, civic consciousness about this problem and to introduce it as a regular topic in Adult Education. Thereby, the thesis emphasizes the importance of Adult Education activities, Counseling and Civic Education, not only for outlining of the problem, its causes and consequences, but also to simply illustrate that just Adult and Further Education provides the potential for a practical solution to the consequences of road traffic accidents.

The thesis consisting of ten chapters is divided into two parts: theoretical and practical.

First part, contained of eight chapters, reveals a theoretical background of the theme, it examines the topic of road traffic accidents from many points of view and it also brings some new suggestions in terms of Adult Education and Personnel Management.

The last two chapters present a practical part of the thesis. First of them is a qualitative research with standardized aspects, or a research of organizations engaged in road traffic accident prevention, intervention and readiness. In brief, the conclusions of the chapter bring some quality criteria propositions for arranging of educational, enlightenment and others campaigns, prepared by organizations for the professionals and public.

Furthermore, an analysis of three casuistries of affected people by road traffic accidents has been written in the tenth chapter. Thus, the theme of traffic accidents is introduced also from personal point of view because of its importance and relevancy.