

Master's thesis OPPORTUNITIES AND LIMITS OF MUSEUM AND SCHOOL COOPERATION deals with settings of the collaboration among school and museum. Thesis is divided into two basic parts. The first theoretical part is intended on definition of museum as an educational institution and its relationship to the formal school educational system. The attention is paid to the extent of presence of museum as a facilitator of educational activities, the subject of education and the informal learning centre in the national school curriculum and to the conditions for successful cooperation with schools. The second (empirical) part describes a research analysing the scope of the offer for schools in Prague provided by local museums, particularly in terms of coverage of national school curriculum goals.
