

Abstract

Title:

Feedback Analysis in Didactic Interaction of Top Basketball Teams

Goals of the thesis:

Find out the tendency in providing of feedback in practise of top basketball teams.

Method:

The research is provided by direct unparticipation observation. Testing procedure is proceeded by using categorial system in practises. Measured exemplar are six practises of random selected teams in men's first division in year 2009/10.

Results:

The results shows which kinds of feedback and social interactional forms are used in practise the most frequent and if the qualities of the feedback are correct with regard to theories of different authors.

Key words:

Basketball, metodic – organisation forms, social interactional forms, coach, practise, verbal communication, feedback