

Abstract

Thesis name: Scuba diving equipment, systems of equipment organization and their comparison

Thesis aim: To summarize information about diving equipment, its function and development. To describe systems of organization of diving equipment and evaluate positives and negatives of individual systems, eventually suggest improvements.

Method: Study and completion of technical literature and other sources. Analyze of data and evaluation of found data.

Results: The result should be the evaluation of systems of organization of diving equipment and their suitability for individual kinds of diving.

Keywords: Scuba diving, diving equipment, systems of organization of diving equipment