

The submitted diploma thesis Left-handed people in current society offers the insight into the past when left-handedness was becoming an equal partner to right-handedness. The diploma thesis deals with the topic of left-handedness and regards it from various points of views. It concentrates on the changing of the left-handed people into righthandedness, but it is mainly interested in the left-handed pupils in school environment.

The way in which teachers work with them, which principles and policy apply for the work with left-handed children. It shows a lot of of teaching aids, which the left-handed nowadays keep at disposal.

Concrete cases of left-handed children and their work occur in the practical part of the diploma thesis. But also teachers' views on left-handed pupils and their way of learning.