

Diploma thesis maps the access families to cosine the activities of preschool children according to chat their social status, value orientation and educational life style. Focuses on the differences in approach and in term sof komplette and incomplete families. Based on the findings of research points to the possitilities for kindergarten parents to offer advice and consultation in the interest of children.