

This bachelor thesis deals with observance of rights of the condemned to the imprisonment. It describes how the rights of the imprisoned are formed in the Czech legislation and which subjects are involved. Furthermore this thesis provides the way how the rights of the condemned to the imprisonment are fulfilled in the concrete prison. There are also presented some possible improvement suggestions of conditions of the imprisoned. Finally this thesis describes an efficiency of actual legal regulations.