

Abstrakt

Title of work: Utilization of canistherapy (dogfacilitated therapy) in comprehensive rehabilitation.

Aim of work: The aim of this work is to find out, how is consciousness of clients at rehabilitation institut Pleš about canistherapy. To find the dog influences on psychosocial sphere of clients.

Method of work: Among used methods at processing theoretic basis of this work belongs background research and prospecting work, were to be used source information from special publication, Internet sources, articles from technical magazines, memorial volume from conferences.

Experimental part of this work used method questioning by the help of controlled talk, results has been analysed through the percentage analyses and graphically represented.

Key words: Canisterapie,klient, canisterapeut, canisterapeutický pes, canisterapeutický tým, komprehenzivní rehabilitace.