

THE PRECIS

Title

Children's contests in athletic preliminary tests

Goals

- Making participant observation of competition organization and race continuance.
- Making an analysis of the race in light of :
  - a) single branches,
  - b) the work of arbitrators,
  - c) the time programme,
  - d) number of competitors in single branches limit,
  - e) participation of girls and boys in single branches,
  - f) children reaction on race continuance.

Objectives

- to make background research concerning characterization of children in preschool age and in pupilage in light of physiologic, anatomic and psychologic, evolvement of mobility in this period, next concerning characterization of trainers personality, practise organization and leading of children and organization of athletic competitions,
- to make a participant observation of the race,
- to catch atmosphere of the race by photo shoot,
- to note own knowledge of race continuance and organization,
- to discover children opinions of race organized this way continuance,
- to work and analyse questionnaire findings,
- to make an interview with Jaroslava Weber, the first two rounds organizer,
- to make a suggestion of arbitrators manual for athletic preliminary tests and mini preliminary tests.

Results

From results ensues that athletic preliminary tests shows a big interest in newly risen races prague preparatory cup. Athlets beginners confirmed positive stance against new branches, which are adapted for their age. During the interview with Mrs. Weber, the first two rounds organizer, we found out that the future of this competition is unsure. The main problem remains namely few clubs are able to order this race type.

Key words:

athletic preliminary tests, athletics mini preliminary tests, evolvment of mobility, trainer personality, children training, athletic competition