

Bachelor's thesis is focused on motives of deconversion perhaps even apostasy from the Faith Movement they exist in Czech Republic. In point of interest were especially organization like Slovo života, Voda života, Oáza ..., for their doctrine is typical of Faith Movement. In the first part is briefly characterized history and the present of Faith Movement in Czech Republic. Further is described here an eventual influence of motives and personal development and process of religion maturing on one's defection. The second part of bachelor's thesis is focused on practical research. The research was realised by the method of structured interview with the chosen sample of defectors.