

Thesis „Bhagavad Gita and the Gospel of Judas“ compares the recently translated and released text of the Gnostic Gospel of Judas with the top of the Indian spiritual literature Bhagavadgita. Occasionally is worked by the text of the New Testament. After a summary of information about Judas in the New Testament and briefly outline the culture and religion from which each of the texts comes, the whole text of the Gospel of Judas gradually compared with the corresponding parts of Bhagavad Gita. The aim is to obtain an overview of the agreeing parts of the both very different texts. Identical parts should be used for recovery of the Gospel of Judas as a valuable text for spiritual site. It Should be used to understand the early Christian gnosis, and as the new impuls for contemplation of the mystery of Christ's sacrifice.
