

The bachelor work describes fulfilling of patiental needs in Hospital for long-term illness and hospic. The main goal of this work is description of differences in providing care with the emphasize on needs of patients in both facilities. The research part of this work is done by answer sheets from stuff in both facilities and by intervieww with a man and a woman representing the public community. The research part is also focused on fulfilling needs of patients relations and on stuff in facilities. The research refers to some actions, which are important for better care of patients, their relations and stuff in these facilities. In conclusion I reflect acquire findings.