

Abstract

This diploma thesis deals with common diseases and difficulties of dogs and cats concerning ears, eyes and teeth with an emphasis on treatment and preventive measures. There is an etiopathogenesis, a symptomatology, a diagnostics and a treatment worked out for each disease. The thesis also describes dosage forms and their routes of administrations. Each chapter includes a list of recorded veterinary pharmaceuticals as well as a list of authorized veterinary pharmaceuticals.