

The title of this diploma thesis is “Process of the establishment of diplomatic relations between Czechoslovakia and Latin America“. The main subject of this work is to catch this process between 1918 and 1945.

This paper is divided into several parts. At the beginning of this paper some terms concerning diplomatic relations and the way of their establishment are briefly defined. Then, the diplomatic relations among Czechoslovakia and the countries of Latin America are investigated. The diplomatic relations among these countries are divided into four parts: the contacts before the creation of Czechoslovakia, the diplomatic relations after the establishment of Czechoslovakia, the diplomatic relations after the events in 1938 and the diplomatic relations after the Second World War.

At the end of this diploma thesis the appendices are enclosed.
