

The meaning of the bachelor's thesis is to outline the conditions needed for successful integration of physically handicapped pupil into primary school. Two research methods were used in this thesis. The first method was a governed interview and the second one was observation. At the end of this thesis we should get the answer of the basic thesis' goal. This goal is a finding of the integration's influence upon integrated physically handicapped pupils, if it is contributing for them or not. As an examined subject we chose a primary school Březenecká which is realizing the integration. The thesis can be useful as an inspiration for elementary schools which are considering the integration. It can also help laymen to penetrate into the physically handicapped people's problems and realize that they are humans as well as everybody else.
