

Constraint solver is a specialized software used to solve constraint satisfaction problems. The thesis surveys constraint solvers and some of them compares using the criteria of user accessibility and variety of problems which can be modeled.