

This Bachelor work considers the role of cultural and political elites in the process of reforms in Czechoslovakia in 1968. It examines the relationship between the state authority and the cultural sphere. It shows the main events which led to the so-called „process of revival“. Purpose of this work is to analyze the atmosphere of the 60's in our country.