

This thesis studies three basic parameters – the Affolter method with Bobath concept, the uses of Affolter methods in Bobath concept and casuistry in which I applied the above mentioned concepts. In my work I make reference of two patients' casuistries, the first patient is with cerebral lesion and the second is after ictus. Appended to the work are photographic files and test of functional independence measurement FIM.