

The main objective of the bachelor thesis Change of the foreign trade structure in the countries of Visegrad four is to analyze the commodity a territory structure of foreign trade in Visegrad four countries in relation to economic transition and to answer the question, what caused such an unusually fast territory reorientation of foreign trade in these countries.