

Bachelor's degree project deals with parents and their pre-school children interactive activities' issues. Theoretical paragraph analyses current information about family itself inclusive the time spent together. Objective of the practical part is to discover (find out) how much time do the above mentioned parents dedicate to their pre-school kids. Study also submit the kindergarten and family teamwork project that is focused on how to optimize their free (leisure) time spent together.