

This Bachelor thesis is about the Burn out syndrom. Indicates on the phenomenon affecting helping professions. In this investigation was detected the rate of burn out and depersonalization and job satisfaction in various work conditions, in stressfull environment or with mobbing at the workplace. Researched sample is made with women and men from six departments of medical equipment.