

This bachelor work elaborates the Issue of exploitation the information profession in machine industry. It investigates appliance of information workers in machine companies. Subsequently it searches conditions of their utility in these companies. The aim of this work is to discover requirement of information workers in machine companies and type of activities they could do. The end of the work draws up a project of establishing information department in specific industry company. The bachelor work is built-up on questioner filled by eleven different companies.