

The bachelor thesis deals with the unique collection of the manuscript maps of Pilsen demesne, which originated in the end of 18th century due to the Raab System. The thesis aims to draw attention to this theme, so far rather neglected in the Czech historiography. The raabisation maps are the important source not only for the reconstruction of the landscape at the end of the 18th century, but also for the survey of the property relations, which went through the essential changes due to the Raab System at that time. The thesis provides an account and evaluation of the literature related to the topic, a depiction of the Raab System process in the Pilsen district and a comprehensive catalogue of the Pilsen raabisation maps. The work includes index, bibliographical references, list of abbreviations and list of illustrations.
