

In my bachelor thesis I mainly deal with New Trends in People Management. In the beginning I can not leave out the development of the theory of organization in the historical context, that shows us, which ways the theory of organization in the 20th century wended.

The next part is about the system of business education and other development programs, that are nowadays a very actual topic too. Except the mentioned development programs is a cycle of business education described in my bachelor thesis, but also systematical business education itself.

6

The learning organization and its description, meaning or characteristics are in the next part of my bachelor thesis. This is a very actual topic too, which is very closely connected with the high necessity of knowledge.

The last part, which is related with the learning organization, is about knowledge management. The knowledge network or kinds of knowledge are described here and the importance of tacit knowledge is here stressed too