

My diploma paper focuses on systemic candidiasis. The first part of the paper deals with current possibilities in prevention, diagnostics and therapy of Candida sepsis. In the second part I introduced three case studies of patients with Candida sepsis diagnosis. It describes the selected diagnostic and therapeutic process, which is confronted with the current state of knowledge in the management of candidiasis.