

This work deals with the literary production of Croatian author Ranko Marinković and surveys primarily his publications released in Czech language. The biggest part presents two most important translations – the collection of short stories Ruce (The Hands) and the novel Kyklop (The Cyclops).