

Work presents the different meeting places in the public space. The public space is seen as an environment which surrounds us and where we can naturally move, whether on the street, public transport, shopping centres, schools, temples or galleries, museums, etc. Part of the work is devoted to the meeting itself and the ritual associated with it- greeting. Attention is also paid to artistic activities in public areas and meeting with it.