

The diploma thesis „Analysis of social counselling at municipal authority in Ústí nad Labem and Jeseník“ deals with providing of social counselling on municipalities. It is a case study involving pieces of information from two municipalities where the social counselling is being offered. The work sets a task to map in what way the obligation of social counseling is provided in accordance with the laws that took effect since 2007.